

BURIAL SITES OF THE SURVIVORS
OF
THE LITTLE BIG HORN BATTLE

By

Wayne R. Gutowsky

PREFACE

The following individuals mentioned in this research were members of the 7th Cavalry who survived the Battle of the Little Big Horn. I kept my research to active members of the 7th Cavalry, officers who died and were reburied in cemeteries near their homes. I did not include Indian Scouts, with the exception of Hairy Moccasin and those scouts buried at the Custer Battlefield National Cemetery and two major civilian scouts. I also did not deal with any burials outside the continental United States. My objective was to organize the whereabouts of their burial sites by states and to attempt to get a picture of their burial site. I also wanted to obtain a map of the cemetery showing the exact location with regards to section, plot, block, row and grave number.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I used two references to help guide me to my objective. I thank Ronald H. Nichols and his book "Men with Custer" and Richard G. Hardorff's "Camp's Little Big Horn Rosters." I was also fortunate to talk to many individuals who were kind enough to give me directions to some of these burial sites. Without their help I would have never located some of the sites. From cemetery help, to libraries, to genealogical societies, to funeral homes, they gave me a great deal of addition information pertaining to these soldiers. They sent me internment papers, obituaries and even shared some stories of the soldiers. Let me apologize in advance to anyone I may have excluded. My resources were numerous and I may not have mentioned everyone who helped me with my research. I appreciate everyone who contributed to this project. A special thanks goes out to Bob Reece and Friends of the Little Bighorn Battlefield Association for allowing me to go on to their website.

Although I am confident that I included all known survivors, I invite readers of this document to contact me with any one I may have excluded. I would appreciate any information, burial maps and photos the reader can provide to make this document as historically accurate as possible.

I was surprised that 137 survivors were listed as UNKNOWN. It disappointed me that so many individuals have disappeared with no location or headstone. I wanted to make sure that I had an exact location so that others may have the opportunity to pay their respects.

I want to thank my wife Susan who traveled down dirt roads, watched for rattlesnakes, took pictures, spent endless hours in cemeteries and most of all gave her encouragement when frustration set in.

Henry Haack+ Buried in Internment Reservation #2. Civil War, Army Section #415. Section 1, Row 4, Gravestone 28. East Campus Cemetery. There are no grave numbers on the graves. Beginning in the far northeast corner of cemetery and walking southeast, grave is in Row 4. Counting markers in the fourth row moving east to west. Known as the Government Hospital for the Insane. Changed to Saint Elizabeth by Congress in 1916. The hospital was under the auspices of the federal government until October 1, 1987 when it was transferred to the District of Columbia. It treated veterans from 1855 until 1946. Thanks to Joques R. Prandoni, Ph.d., Forensic Services, who sent me an outstanding DVD and pictures showing the location of Mr. Haack and an overview of the hospital grounds including a map. Thanks also to Francis M. McMillan for her help. You can contact Dr. Prandoni at 2700 Martin Luther King Jr. Avenue S.E., Washington, D.C. 20032: (202-645-8845)

Thomas French+ Section 23, Lot 257 I contacted Georgetown University Special Collections Department. They sent internment papers. You have to send a letter requesting the documents. Thanks to Dr. Joques Prandoni for taking pictures of French's burial site and the rundown condition of the cemetery. The cemetery is not maintained and French's site is almost covered by a nearby tree. Vandalism is obvious through out the cemetery. The cemetery has for some time now been owned by Georgetown University, which has long sought to remove the graves, remove the hill on which the cemetery sits, and develop the land. Part of this process has been the steps the university has taken to contact possible owners of the plots, to establish which graves can be removed without legal complications. The latter statements were found on the web concerning Holy Road Cemetery.

IOWA
HARRIS

John H. Cooper+ Fairview Cemetery Lot 34 Burial records show J.B. Cooper

Thanks to Dan Breuker of Harris, Iowa who forwarded my concern to Dianne Raveling of Sibley, Iowa. Dianne sent the following information which was published on October 1, 1903. You have to go back to the following thursday ( September 24, 1903) which was Cooper's date of death. From the Fairview Township trustee book-March 12, 1903-Lot 34 sold to Cooper.

October 1, 1903-G.Harris-Mr Cooper, who was taken sick here, passed away thursday night. The remains were laid to rest in the Fairview Cemetery Saturday. His wife and children arrived here from their home in Dakota, Saturday morning to pay tributes to their departed dead.

October 8, 1903-T. Harris-Mrs J.B. Cooper, arrived from Spencer, SD last Saturday morning, being called here by the death of Mrs. Cooper's husband. Mr. Caldwell is a brother of Mrs. Stratton.

On April 21, 2009 Dianne sent the following info from old newspapers at the local museum. October 1, 1903-Osceola Co.Tribune-Harris News. Robert Cooper of Lake Park came over Saturday and walked out to the Wm Johnson place. On returning he became suddenly ill in the Blue Front Restaurant. His illness was caused by being overheated, and having had a sun stroke he was easily effected. Dr. Cady was called and Mr. Cooper on reviving was taken to the hotel where he is at the present. His father-in-law of Chamberlin, South Dakota arrived Tuesday and is taking care of him. His wife and children who are in South Dakota on a homestead which he had recently taken and where he was to join them in a short time have been sent for. There is little hope for his recovery.

On April 30, 2009 Dianne sent me the following info. There is only one lot with the Cooper name on the Plat map for the Fairview Cemetery. However there could be more than one Cooper buried in the lot. The lots are big enough for 6 bodies. The only information about a Cooper buried there is a notation that a Cooper purchased the lot in March, 1903. My friend and I who are doing the research have been unable to come up with anything else pertaining to the date. We've searched the newspapers for a death at that time. We are thinking that perhaps John Cooper had a relative who purchased the lot for a burial in March, 1903 and then when John died in the area in September, 1903 it only made sense to bury him there.

After hours on the computer I found John ROBERT Coopers wife. His wife was; Rachel Ann Humphreys Cooper-Born October 15, 1858, in Ill, daughter of Fernando Cortez Humphreys and Mary Jane McGrew. Rachel is buried in Reliance Protestant Cemetery, 1 mile N. of Reliance, SD. John & Rachel's daughter Florence/Flossefa/Flossie Cooper married Wm. C./or Wm. Randall Robertson July 31, 1917 in Lyman Co., SD. I have not found anything on a son born to them.

It seems like all of the above information seems to support the facts that John Cooper is buried in the Fairview Cemetery.

Fairview Cemetery is located 2 miles west of Harris and than ¼ mile north. It is located on the east side of the road. Cooper is buried in an unmarked grave. It is a small country cemetery. Thanks to Dianne Raveling for sending 5 pictures of the cemetery and burial site. There is no headstone to identify the burial site. I sent a letter to the VA requesting a military headstone.

BISMARCK

Charles A. Campbell    Frederick Holmsted    James Bennett (died on the steamer Far West)
Thanks to James A. Davis/Head of Reference, State Archives and Historical Research Library, State Historical Society of North Dakota, for the following information on the above three survivors.
I ran a quick search in the Bismarck cemetery book which is titled, Burleigh County, North Dakota Book of Remembrances, and I did not find any of these three individuals mentioned. I have also checked the books for Morton County and for the Greenwood Cemetery which is an older cemetery that was located north of the post. There were some burials that took place there but they kept very poor records. The first cemetery in Bismarck, which was called "Boothill", was on 4th Street north of the downtown area and it was moved in 1884, but again the records were poor and not all graves were recovered. In 1903, while they were excavating the area for a streetcar track, they ran across at least 13 graves which had not been moved, so it is possible that Bennett or Holmstead could have been buried in one of these early cemeteries. The remains for Mr. Bennett may have been shipped back to Ohio as this was a significant event at the time and his body was not on the battlefield.

According to the Bismarck Tribune, Frederick Holmstead was buried at Ft. Abraham Lincoln and it was officiated by officers from the Post so his remains should have been removed in the 1890's however being a civilian they may have moved him to Greenwood and not left a marker. The GAR was then responsible for marking the graves of former soldiers. I ran a search of the listing for the remains transferred to Custer National Cemetery but did not find the name.

There are no burials at Ft Lincoln even though they have headstones for their names at the Fort.

ELIZABETH

Henry Harrison Davis His obituary does not appear in the Elizabeth Herald Newspaper. He is not listed as having a headstone in the Elizabeth Cemetery between 1890-1912. Thanks to Ellen J. Ballas for all of her help in locating Mr. Davis. She was kind enough to check the local area newspapers looking for an obituary. None was found. She stated that there are other local cemeteries out of this area that could be tried but sometimes if you are not related they will not give you information.

John Lattman+ Elk Vale Cemetery From I-90 Exit #61 go 7 miles north the road will turn to gravel. Call Judy Rettleine and she will meet you at the cemetery site (605-923-2998). She is the care taker. Lattman's grave is located toward the back of the cemetery a little to the left.

STURGIS

John J. Mahoney+ St. Aloysius Cemetery, Grave 1, Lot 17, Section A. Contact St. Francis Catholic Church for directions to the cemetery (605-720-3579). St. Aloysius is on the same street as Bear Butte Cemetery (Sherman Ave.), but at the other end of town. Mahoney's grave is located in the older section. There are two entrances to St. Aloysius. One is right next to the road and you have to walk up the path to the older section. Mahoney's grave is on the opposite end of the older section from this entrance. The other entrance is near St. Martin's Academy and takes you directly into the old section of the cemetery. This is the main entrance to the cemetery and Mahoney's grave is to the left as you enter the cemetery. This entrance would be the easiest one to use. Thanks again to Scott Nelson.
